

Colour in a blue and white jug

This pottery blue and white jug dates from the late 18th century. It has an inscription under the spout: 'Wm & Peggy Rile, 1785'. The jug was given to the Museum by a collector of 17th and 18th century pottery.

Using colouring pencils or felt tip pens, colour in the jug below. You might like to keep the original colours of blue and white, or you can choose a different colour scheme.

