

Colour in a chamber pot

This chamber pot is in the museum collection.

This chamber pot is made from clay and is a portable toilet usually used at night (often in the bedroom or chamber). It was very common before indoor plumbing and flush toilets. In fact, they remained in use in some places until mid-20th century.

Using felt tip pens or colouring pencils, colour in the patterned chamber pot below.

