

Colour in the mantrap

This mantrap from the late nineteenth century would have been used on private estates to try and deter and capture the men who were poaching animals and birds from the property.

Using felt tip pens or colouring pencils, colour in.

