

Colour in a model canal narrowboat

Used for pleasure today, this model of a canal narrowboat recalls when the canal and the boats on it were used to transport goods, in this case, coal. This model was made by A.T. Alsworth and given to the Museum in 1997.

Using felt tip pens or colouring pencils, colour in the canal narrowboat.

