

Make a donkey

This craft was inspired by this card game (called donkey), which is in the museum collection.

You will need: cardboard roll, pencil, scissors, paint, paintbrush, fine nib permanent marker (black), wiggle eyes, 2 glue dots (optional).

Instructions:

1. On the cardboard roll, draw the donkey – please see pictures below. Left to right: front, back and side(s). Cut out.

2. Paint inside and out with the base colour. Leave to dry.
3. Paint the face and tail of the donkey in a lighter shade of your base colour. Leave to dry.
4. Use white paint to add details to your donkey. Leave to dry.
5. Attach the wiggle eyes (with glue dots if necessary).
6. Add further details to the donkey with a fine nib permanent marker, and cut small shallow cuts along the end of the donkey's tail. Bend the tail down.
7. Your donkey is now complete! You can make up a story about your donkey's adventures.

Fun facts: A group of donkeys is called a drove, herd or pace.

A male donkey and a female horse will give birth to a mule, and a male horse and female donkey to a hinny.
