

Colour in a collared urn

This collared urn dates from the Bronze Age. Most urns are found in round barrows (burial places) and this one is no exception. It was found in a round barrow at Inkpen. Barrows dot the landscape of this area, the most famous being the Seven Barrows at Lambourn.

Using felt tip pens or colouring pencils, colour in the urn.

